

SETTING THE RECORD STRAIGHT:

Training, Technology, and Truth in Capture Method

FEB 10, 2026
90-MINUTES
7:00-8:30 PM ET

BUILDING ON JANUARY’S “STATE OF THE PROFESSION,” THIS SESSION CONTINUES THE CONVERSATION ABOUT TRUTH, CHANGE, AND COLLABORATION WITHIN THE REPORTING COMMUNITY.

We’ll take an honest look at the realities behind digital reporting, the misconceptions that persist, and how every capture method must evolve through consistent training and certification to meet today’s standards of accuracy and integrity.

Participants will explore how technology, human oversight, and ethics intersect to preserve the record and ensure equal access to justice. The discussion will highlight current approaches to training and compliance across the industry, including examples of Veritext’s initiatives to elevate quality and promote transparency.

BY THE END OF THIS SESSION, PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO:

- Identify common misconceptions and misunderstandings surrounding modern reporting practices and apply fact-based clarification to strengthen awareness of professional responsibilities within today’s legal environment.
- Explain how structured oversight, preparation, and adherence to established reporting procedures uphold accuracy, integrity, and public trust, particularly in increasingly complex or fast-paced proceedings.
- Recognize a range of ethical considerations that may arise as reporting workflows incorporate new tools or technologies, and describe how ethical frameworks guide responsible decision-making.
- Apply enhanced understanding of quality standards, workflow expectations, and professional protocols to support sound judgment and reliable performance in real-world scenarios.
- Reflect on the relationship between training, professional expectations, and consistent service delivery, and identify opportunities to integrate these concepts into daily practice for continued professional growth.
